MRS. ROSALYND ROBERTS EVANS, of Salem, Va., who has been appointed sponsor at the Confederate reunion to be held in Little Rock, Ark., during the month of May.

GENERAL STITH BOLLING, commander of the Virginia Division, United Confederate Veterans, has appointed Mrs. Rosalynd Roberts Evans, of Salem, Va., as sponsor to the reunion of the United Confederate Veterans to be held in Little Rock, Ark., May 16, 17 and 18. Mrs. Evans is the daughter of Captain and Mrs. T. A. Roberts, of Salem, the former being quartermaster of the Twenty-second Virginia Regiment. Her paternal grandmother was Mrs. Halley, daughter of James Halley, of England, and her great-grandmother was Mrs. Elizabeth Lee, of Westmoreland county, Va. On her maternal side, Mrs. Evans is descended from the Dolly Madison family, of Virginia. She is a most enthusiastic member of the Daughters of the Confederacy, and was instrumental in the work of erecting the monument to the memory of the Confederate private soldiers at Salem. Miss Mary Curtis, who has been appointed by General Bolling as first maid of honor to Mrs. Evans at the reunion in May, is the daughter of Mrs. Harriet E. and the late Robert B. T. Curtis, and granddaughter of John A. Curtis, of the Confederate States Navy. In behalf of the navy Miss Curtis unveiled the Soldiers and Sailors' Monument in this city some years ago. Her ancestors are among the oldest families in Eastern Virginia. The Drummonds, of Accomac; Camps of Gloucester, and the Curtises, of Elizabeth City county.

The functions incident to these reunions are always particularly brilliant affairs, and the sponsors and their maids are entertained very handsomely at a round of beautiful balls and receptions during their stay.

Children's Party.

A very attractive affair for the little people of society here was a circus party given Friday evening at 8 o'clock in Belvidere Hall by Miss Ella Binford to her Friday night dancing class. The dance proved a very unique function indeed. The children all came in some sort of circus costume, and the decorations were all in keeping with the circus idea. A real sure enough hurdygurdy and a real live monkey, with tents and pink lemonade were some of the features of the evening.

Some of the children present were Margaret McVeigh, Grace Gilliam, Marie Jones, Helen Luce, Jean Heck, Elizabeth MacLean, Marie Long, Elizabeth Stacy, Madeline Rigger, Wallace Neal, Weyman Cabell, Robertson Capers, John Wallace, Marshall Munce, Hall Mason, Robert Sharpe, Blair, James Altop, Decatur Jones, Elizabeth Moore, Helen Williams, Mabel Warren, Nathalia Crammer, Herbert Jackson, Clifford Mayfield, Marlborough Addison, Eva Baker, Sallie Gordon and others.

Guests at Mansion.

Mrs. William Hodges Mann has as her guests in the Executive Mansion Little Misses Lena May Donnan, Florence Belle Robinson, Julia Donnan and Alice Kent. They will remain at the mansion until tomorrow morning, when they will return to their homes in Petersburg, Va.

At the Woman's Club.

Mrs. Thomas Cary Johnson, chairman of the day, has been fortunate in securing Dr. J. C. Metcalf to address the Woman's Club to-morrow afternoon. Dr. Metcalf's popularity will bring out a large audience to hear him tell of "Cambridge and Her College."

Miss Gussie Daniel will meet the Literature Class on Wednesday afternoon to discuss Byron, Shelley and Keats.

A delightful hour was spent at the Woman's Club on Wednesday afternoon with Miss Jessie Hainsin Williams, post-graduate of the decorative department of the Maryland Institute, Baltimore. Miss Williams told of the "Influence of Arts and Crafts on our Manner of Living," dwelling particularly upon the making of articles of jewelry and silverware in which she is especially interested. She showed some specimens of her own work, which were very attractive.

The March tournament was played at the club on Thursday evening, with bridge whilst as the game. Twelve tables were engaged, the winners being Miss Guillaume and Admiral Webster. Supper was served after the game.

"Piano" Rehearsals.

The "Piano" rehearsals will be held this week on Monday, Tuesday and Thursday nights at 8 o'clock, at Miss Elliott's School. The rehearsals are very important these days, and all who are to take part are asked to attend promptly. A social feature of these rehearsals are the charming chafing dish affairs that follow in the Dances Saturday Night.

Some very attractive functions that are amusing the younger element of society these days are the Saturday night dances given at Belvidere Hall. They are most informal and attended largely by the girls, who will in all probability make their formal bow to society next winter.

Miss Crenshaw Engaged.

An engagement of much interest to society recently announced is that of Miss Mary Hart Crenshaw, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Merritt W. Crenshaw to Edward Griffith Michaels, also of Richmond. The wedding will be celebrated very quietly at the home of the bride the latter part of next month.

Miss Rebecca Beverley, of Essex county, Va., who is the guest of her aunt, Mrs. Harry Bell, in Baltimore, will also visit Miss Marie Yearley for several weeks before leaving Baltimore. Miss Beverley made her formal bow to society in Baltimore last for a guest of her brother, Haskins Hobson at his home at Forest Hill for the past several weeks, left yesterday afternoon for Chesterfield, where she will visit relatives for a week before returning to her home in Powhatan county. Miss Hobson has recently visited Miss Armstrong in Baltimore, where she was much entertained.

Entertained in Norfolk.

A Norfolk paper of last week contains the following of interest here: "Commander N. B. Forrest, of the United Sons of Confederate Veterans, was the guest of honor at a brilliant reception given at the home of J. Griff Edwards, in Portsmouth, by the Sons of Veterans of Norfolk, Portsmouth and Berkeley. The home of Mr. Edwards was beautifully and elaborately decorated for the occasion with palms and flags, and the color scheme of red and white effectively carried out. A string orchestra furnished music during the evening. The hours for calling were from 9 to 11. Commander Forrest, Harry Parker, commander of the Sons of Veterans of Portsmouth; William Baker, commander of the Sons of Veterans of Norfolk, and Mr. Lingamfelter, commander of the Sons of Veterans of Berkeley; McDonald Lee, commander of the Sons of Veterans of Virginia Division, and Colonel W. W. Old, member of the executive council, U. S. C. V., received the guests, assisted by Mrs. J. Griff Edwards."

Mr. Forrest and Mrs. Lee were both entertained very handsomely during their brief stay in Richmond. They are now the guests of friends in Roanoke, where several functions have been planned in their honor.

Visiting in Chesterfield.

Miss Pattle Hobson, who has been a guest of her brother, Haskins Hobson at his home at Forest Hill for the past several weeks, left yesterday afternoon for Chesterfield, where she will visit relatives for a week before returning to her home in Powhatan county. Miss Hobson has recently visited Miss Armstrong in Baltimore, where she was much entertained.

was given by Admiral Webster, having for its subject "Art in China," and was illustrated to some extent by a few specimens of pictorial and calligraphic art. Admiral Webster laid special stress upon the tendency of the Chinese to adapt their art to utilitarian uses, but, as is well known by travelers in the Flowery Kingdom, much attention is paid to purely decorative effects in various materials, porcelain, silk and metals. In cast bronzes the Chinese probably stand pre-eminent, for their work in this material is far and away superior to that of the rest of the world, with the possible exception of Japan, and this artistic people are under obligations to the older nation for their art education.

Admiral Webster's remarks were listened to with much interest by a large audience, which gathered in the parlors of the Art Club, 521 West Grace Street, in spite of the inclement weather.

Miss Edith Ragland and the members of the club entertained their guests at tea after the lecture was concluded. Miss Ann Fletcher, a former teacher in the Art School, will talk next Tuesday on "Art and Artists."

Much interest is being shown in the Thursday talks on "Art and Artists" by Miss Nora Houston, the club school teacher. The names given attention on Thursday were Michael Angelo and Raphael. The masterpieces of these giants of the ancient art were noted by George Harvey's Lecture.

Among the pleasant entertainments of this week must be reckoned the lecture to be given by George Harvey, of New York, one of the most prominently known American journalists and editors, in the auditorium of the Jefferson Hotel, on the evening of March 22, at 8 o'clock.

Mr. Harvey comes to Richmond at the request of the Equal Suffrage League of Virginia, and will speak under the auspices of that organization. He will be introduced by Major J. C. Hennehill. The lecture is free, and the public is cordially invited to hear the distinguished lecturer.

Interesting Engagement.

An engagement of widespread interest just announced is that of Miss Louise Wentworth Wilkin, daughter of the late Dr. Charles Wilkin, of New York, and of Mrs. Wilkin, of Baltimore, to Jesse Lyman Boynton, son of the late Mr. and Mrs. George Boynton. Miss Wilkin, who is a granddaughter of the late John E. Hurst, made her debut three winters ago at the first Monday german, and has since spent much time in Europe. She has been much admired, not only in Baltimore, but in Florence, Italy, where she was introduced by her aunt, Mrs. Capellini, formerly Miss Nancy Hurst. Her only brother is Hurst Wilkin, who is a student at Princeton. Mr. Boynton, who is a grandson of the late William Devries, is one of the popular young men in society, and is a member of the Baltimore Club, the Green Spring Valley Hunt Club and the Bachelors' Cotillion Club. The marriage will take place early in June.
